first monday memo September 2011

Dear Partners,

I'm pleased to announce that Kristin Fairholm has been named as Interim Executive Director for EyesOpenIowa.

Kristin has been on staff as the CAPP Grant Manager with the agency for the past eighteen months. She brings with her a strong background in executive level management at the state and local levels. Kristin has agreed to serve dual roles as the CAPP Grant Manager and Interim Executive Director while we complete this transition.

Kristin has the full support of her staff and board to ensure that EyesOpenIowa continues to provide the high level of service expected. We all look forward to progress and growth in our current projects in the months to come. The agency is experiencing some new energy and vision which will serve our mission well.

Sincerely,

Libbet Brooke

New Items Have Arrived in our Lending Library

Thanks to CAPP funding, we were allowed to purchase many new DVD's to help stock our shelves. Many of the DVD's come with a facilitator's guide and worksheets for copying. New titles include, Bloodlines: It Could Be You, Sexting: Sex Plus Text Equals Trouble, Mothers Too Soon and many more.

Recently added CAPP approved curricula titles The Great Body Shop and All4You are now available for loan in limited copy.

Items are available for loan free of charge. We just ask that you return them when you are finished so that others may take advantage of this opportunity. Please contact our office if you are interested in checking something out. View available titles here: Library Titles

Phase V of the Talking Sex Together campaign officially launches this week! As part of Phase V, we've increased the frequency of the monthly mobile hotline and will now have two hotlines per month on the first and third Fridays.

Eyes On . . . Lynette Jacoby

A monthly feature highlighting a staff member, board member, or community partner we think you should know.

Lynette Jacoby has been a long time partner and supporter of EyesOpenIowa. She was one of the founding members of Futurenet and has given many hours of service to EyesOpenIowa.

Lynette has been leading the way in adolescent pregnancy prevention in Johnson and Iowa counties as Program Coordinator for United Action for Youth. They provide Draw the Line/Respect the Line and Making Proud Choices in many school districts. UAY has more than four decades of experience in providing youth development programs that engage youth in activities that cultivate their talents and interests. Check out their programs at www.uayhealthed.org

We recently learned that after twenty-one years at United Action for Youth, Lynette was recently appointed the new Social Services Coordinator by the Johnson County Board of Supervisors. Congratulations to Lynette on this new endeavor in your career. Your departure will be felt in the CAPP world!
